

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements

Introduction

“The Sea of International Politics”: Fluidity, Solvency, and Drift in the Global South Atlantic

Joseph R. Slaughter and Kerry Bystrom

Part I: South Atlantic Imperial Geographies

Chapter One

The African Slave Trade and the Construction of the Iberian Atlantic

Luiz Felipe de Alencastro

Chapter Two

A World Girded: San Simonian Space and Race in the Nineteenth-Century Latin Transatlantic

Jaime Hanneken

Chapter Three

Scheherazade in Chains: Arab-Islamic Genealogies of African Diasporic Literature

Jason Frydman

Chapter Four

Southern By Degrees: Islands and Empires in the South Atlantic, the Indian Ocean and the Sub-Antarctic World

Isabel Hofmeyr

Part II: South Atlantic Cold War Modernities

Chapter Five

Beyond the Color Curtain: The Metonymic Color Politics of the

Tricontinental and the (New) Global South
Anne-Garland Mahler

Chapter Six

South Africa, Chile and the Cold War: Reading the South Atlantic in Mark Behr's The Smell of Apples

Kerry Bystrom

Chapter Seven

Islands in Distress: Making Sense of the Malvinas/Falklands War

Oscar Hemer

Chapter Eight

Orientalism and the Narration of Violence in the Mediterranean Atlantic: Gabriel García Márquez and Elias Khoury

Christina E. Civantos

Chapter Nine

Marvelous Autocrats: Disrupted Realisms in the Dictator-Novel of the South Atlantic

Magalí Armillas-Tiseyra

Part III: Global South Atlantic Futures

Chapter Ten

Postwar Politics in O Heroi and Kangamba

Lanie Millar

Chapter Eleven

Adrift between Neo-liberalism and the Revolution: Cape Verde and the South Atlantic in Germano Almeida's Eva

Luís Madureira

Chapter Twelve

A Sweet Sweet Tale of Terror: Rita Indiana Hernandez Writes the Dominican Republic into the Global South Atlantic

Maja Horn

Chapter Thirteen
Carioca Orientalism: Morocco in the Imaginary of a Brazilian
Telenovela
Wail Hassan

Acknowledgments
Works Cited
List of Contributors
Index