

Writing Imperial and Postcolonial History: Franco-British Dialogues

Historiographical conversations under the auspices of the Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History (UK) and Outre-Mers, Revue d'histoire
(France)

23 October 2015

Musée de l'histoire de l'immigration
293 avenue Daumesnil, Paris 12th arrondissement

PROGRAMME

- 10 : 15 Introduction to the workshop, by Benjamin Stora, president of the Musée de l'histoire de l'immigration
- 10 : 30 Franco-British dialogues around colonial history and the postcolonial condition: what is at stake?
Berny Sèbe (University of Birmingham) and Isabelle Surun (Lille III)
- 10 : 45 New methodological directions: archives and sources half a century
after the end of empire
Chair: Jacques Frémeaux (Paris IV)
Speakers: Raphaëlle Branche (Rouen) (tbc), Sophie Dulucq (Toulouse Jean Jaurès) and James Fichter (Hong Kong University)
- 11 : 45 Imperial history and postcolonial studies: new objects of study and interdisciplinary approaches
Chair: Berny Sèbe (Birmingham)
Speakers: Fabrice Bensimon (Paris IV), Abdellali Hajjat (Paris Ouest Nanterre La Défense) and Stephen Howe (University of Bristol)
- 12 : 45 Lunch
- 14 : 15 History, memory and (ex-)colonies
Chair: Hugues Tertrais (Paris I)
Speakers: Robert Aldrich (University of Sydney), Sylvie Thénault (CNRS)
and Arthur Asseraf (University of Oxford)
- 15 : 15 Writing histories of 'overseas territories' in the 21st century: Franco-
British perspectives
Chair: Isabelle Surun (Lille III)
Speakers: Stephen Howe (Bristol) and Emmanuelle Sibeud (Paris VIII)
- 16 : 15 Conclusion: towards new themes, beyond historical legacies?
Jacques Frémeaux (Paris IV) and Benjamin Stora (Paris XIII and Musée de l'histoire de l'immigration)
- 16 : 45 Workshop ends

All welcome (first-come-first-served). To book a place, please e-mail b.c.sebe@bham.ac.uk

Workshop organised with the support of the Société française d'histoire des Outre-Mers, the Institut universitaire de France (Professeur Jacques Frémeaux) and the Musée de l'histoire de l'Immigration, in partnership with the Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History and Outre-Mers, Revue d'histoire.